

TOWNE STREET THEATRE
LA's Premiere African-American Theatre Company™

CALENDAR LISTING

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 8, 2019

CONTACT: Cynthia Gibson
CKG COMMUNICATIONS
(310) 560-8010
ckg@ckgcommunications.net

TOWNE STREET THEATRE PRESENTS IN RESPONSE: YEAR OF THE WOMAN. . . *Still

WHO: Towne Street Theatre (TST)

WHAT: Towne Street Theatre's IN RESPONSE: Year of the Woman . . . Still is the latest installment of the critically acclaimed IN RESPONSE series reflecting on the current State of the Union. Past and present issues of women including current the #Me Too movement are explored through a collection of dramatic, humorous and thought-provoking, monologues, poems and dance. All the material is written by women. Sunday performances are followed by an audience talkback.

WHERE: Stella Adler Theatre, 6773 Hollywood Boulevard, Hollywood, CA. 90028

WHEN: Each Saturday and Sunday in the month of April (6 – 28)
Saturdays at 8:00 P.M. and Sunday Matinees at 4:00 P.M.
Preview performance is Thursday, April 4, at 8 P.M.

COST: $25.00 at the door; $20.00 online; seniors, students and groups of 10 or more $15;
<https://tstyearofthewomanstill.eventbrite.com>

MORE INFO: info@townestreetla.org or call (213) 712-6944

ABOUT TOWNE STREET THEATRE

Founded as a result of the 1992 Los Angeles riots, Towne Street Theatre (TST) was created based on the belief that art could bring about social change.

TST's mission is to create, develop and produce original work that reflects the African American experience and perspective. The theatre company is committed to developing the next generation of theatre artists through its membership and programming and has featured a diverse selection of intriguing productions as well as a salute to African American playwrights.

Celebrating 25 years of showcasing African American art and culture, the theatre company has helped bridge the cultural divide by bringing artists and audiences of all colors together and in doing so has emerged as the premiere African American theatre company in Los Angeles.